

What makes a domain worth registering?

Every candidate is scored 1–10 on ten weighted criteria, normalised to /100 — and it only surfaces names whose .com is actually available.

How the score works:

each criterion is rated 1–10 and weighted, then normalised to a weighted average out of 100 — $\Sigma(\text{score} \times \text{weight}) / 88 \times 10$. 85+ is a strong domain.

Weights — Brandable 10 · Short 9 · Easy spell 9 · .com avail 10 · TM safe 10 · Socials 8 · Future-proof 9 · Pronounce 8 · SEO 7 · Professional 8

* TM safe is a deepseek model-knowledge screen (not a live registry — always shows *) and Socials a live GitHub (+best-effort X/Instagram/TikTok) check. TM results are informational, not legal advice — verify at USPTO/EUIPO. Availability is a live RDAP lookup; "unknown" means the registry didn't answer (rate-limit or no RDAP) — re-run or verify at a registrar.

Every name in the list has an available .com, scored and ranked — so you pick from winners, not dead ends.

HOW IT STARTS

Tell it about your business

Domain Search Agent

Tell it about your business, answer 5 questions, get a scored, availability-checked shortlist.

1 • About your business & 5 quick questions

Everything here feeds name generation and scoring. The more specific, the better the shortlist.

Business name idea or brand seed (optional)

e.g. Northwind, Zappy, or leave blank to invent from keywords

What does your business do? (1–2 lines)

e.g. A subscription app that delivers fresh coffee to home offices.

1 Core keywords (comma separated)

coffee, brew, fresh, office

2 Audience & tone

e.g. young professionals, premium but friendly

3 Naming style you prefer

Invented / brandable

Compound (two real words)

Keyword-rich (SEO)

Single real word

4 Words to include / avoid avoid: cheap, 24; like: nest, hub

You found the perfect

It was gone. 🦴

Here's the open-source tool I built to fix that. →

THE PROBLEM

Naming has three silent killers

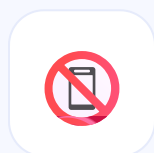

The .com is taken

...and it's the one that matters most.

A trademark landmine

A name that's legally risky to use.

Handles already gone

No matching @ on the socials.

You fall in love with a name — then one of these quietly kills it.

THE FIX

It only shows names you can actually register.

- 1 AI generates brandable names from your business info
(DeepSeek or Gemini)
- 2 A live RDAP lookup verifies the .com — real registration status, no guessing
- 3 Trademark + GitHub/social screening on every candidate
- 4 It loops until it finds N available .coms — then ranks them

No more chasing names you can't have.
